Študentje se bodo pri predmetu seznanili s pojmi in relacijami na področju varnosti na nivoju posameznika, družbe, države in mednarodnih varnostnih povezav. Uvodoma bodo spoznali zgodovinska dejstva, ki so vplivala na pomen pojma varnosti v sociološkem, pravnem in upravnem smislu ter se seznanili z različnimi dejavniki, ki so vplivali na razvoj varnostnih paradigm. Individualna varnost je bila vedno pogojevana z omejevanjem različnih pravic posameznika s strani države kar je v kolektivnem smislu prispevalo k oblikovanju več družbenih ureditev. Dejavniki, ki so vplivali na oblikovanje le teh se v posameznih obdobjih spreminjajo. Paradigma mednarodnih odnosov, tradicionalna varnostna paradigm, kritična varnostna paradigma in alternativna varnostna paradigm obravnavajo razvoj in relacije med posameznikom, državo in družbo skozi čas s poudarkom na dvajsetem stoletju. V enaidvajsetem stoletju pa prehajamo v obdobje nove paradigne, ki vključuje večino novih dejavnikov, ki vplivajo na stanje in razvoj posameznika, države in družbe. Globalizacija je prinesla novo realnost, ki se izdatno manifestira na področju mednarodnih odnosov. Mednarodne varnostne organizacije “zahodnega tipa” dobivajo močno konkurenco in izzive, ki jih predstavljajo države kot so npr. Kitajska in Rusija, varnostne grožnje v obliki množičnih migracij, kibernetskih napadov, okoljskih sprememb, hitrega razvoja orožja za množično uničevanje ter drugih oblik nevarnosti, ki ogrožajo globalno varnost kot	Students will be introduced to the concepts and relations in the field of security at the level of the individual, society, country and international security connections. At the beginning, they will learn about the historical facts that influenced the meaning of the concept of security in sociological, legal and administrative terms. and became acquainted with the various factors that influenced the development of security paradigms. Individual security has always been conditioned by the restriction of the various rights of the individual by the state, which in a collective sense has contributed to the creation of more social arrangements. The factors that influenced the formation of these change in individual periods. The paradigm of international relations, the traditional security paradigm, the critical security paradigm, and the alternative security paradigm address the development and relations between the individual, the state, and society over time with an emphasis on the twentieth century. In the twenty-first century, however, we are entering a period of a new paradigm that includes most of the new factors influencing the state and development of the individual, the state, and society. Globalization has brought a new reality, which is abundantly manifested in the field of international relations. Western-type international security organizations are facing strong competition and challenges from countries such as China and Russia, security threats in the form of mass migration, cyber attacks, environmental

npr. Covid 19, okoljske spremembe, vojna v Ukrajini in Palestini. Ključni cilj pri predmetu bo dobiti najširši možni vpogled v organizacijo in delovanje mednarodnih varnostnih sistemov, kako delujejo in kakšni so trendi njihovega razvoja v prihodnje. Organizacije "zahodnega tipa" kot so npr. OZN, OSCE, EU, NATO se srečujejo z novimi izzivi, ki jih prinašajo druge kulture te pa "ogrožajo" zahodno kulturo na povsem nov bolj sufisticiran način (ekonomsko, kibernetsko, kulturno,…). Poleg navedenega je cilj vzpostaviti ustrezno zavedanje o pomenu nevladnih varnostnih subjektov, ki v mednarodnem varnostnem okolju dobivajo vse pomembnejšo vlogo.	change, the rapid development of weapons of mass destruction and other forms of threats to global security such as. Covid 19, climate changes and the war in Ukraine. The key objective of the course will be to gain the widest possible insight into the organization and operation of international security systems, how they work and what are the trends of their development in the future. "Western-type" organizations such as The UN, the OSCE, the EU, NATO are facing new challenges posed by other cultures, which are "threatening" Western culture in a completely new, more sophisticated way (economic, cyber, cultural, "). In addition, the additional objective is to raise awareness of the importance of non-governmental security actors, which are playing an increasingly important role in the international security environment.
