Call for Abstracts and Papers

Researchers, academics, doctoral students, professionals and policymakers are invited to submit research contributions. Abstracts and full papers must be submitted exclusively in English. Abstracts should clearly identify the research problem, objective, methodology, principal findings or expected results, and relevance to one or more EDASOL 2027 thematic areas. Authors of accepted abstracts will be invited to present their research at the conference.

Abstract Submission: Please submit your abstract via the online submission form: Submission

Abstract Submission Deadline: 15 February 2027.

Publication in EMC Review

Selected high-quality full papers presented at EDASOL 2027 may be nominated by the Conference Scientific/Program Committee for consideration for publication in Economy and Market Communication Review - EMC Review. Nomination does not guarantee publication. Manuscripts are subject to the journal's independent editorial evaluation and peer-review process and must comply with the current Instructions to Authors. EMC Review currently requires manuscripts to be submitted in English via its OJS platform.
