Content (Syllabus outline):

Jedro vsebine predmeta je razumevanje strukture mednarodne skupnosti, njen razvoj, in temeljne značilnosti sodobne mednarodne skupnosti. Ko se skuša študentom na višji, magistrski ravni predstaviti navedeno problematiko je glede na dejstvo, da pred tem niso pridobili temeljnih znanj o mednarodnih odnosih in mednarodnem pravu potrebno tudi opredeliti najpomembnejše pojme iz teorije mednarodnih odnosov in mednarodnega prava, zlasti koncept in vlogo suverenosti, ki opredeljuje mednarodno skupnost in odnose v njej.

V okviru obravnave subjektov je poleg njihove splošne opredelitve dan poseben poudarek državi, ki zaradi njene suverenosti in siceršnjega položaja, ima v mednarodnih odnosih specifičen položaj in dominantno vlogo. Poleg države so kot subjekti mednarodnih odnosov obsežneje obravnavani narodi s poudarkom na problematiki samoodločbe narodov in varstva narodnih manjšin. Izpostavljena je tudi vloga transnacionalnih korporacij, verskih skupnosti in NGO v mednarodni skupnosti. Razen nekaj temeljnih ugotovitev je problematika mednarodnih organizacij obravnavana v okviru posebnega predmeta.

V vsebino predmeta sodi tudi poglobljena in postdiplomski ravni ustrezna obravnava odnosov v mednarodni skupnosti. Posebej so obravnavani odnosi kooperacije na eni in odnosi konflikta na drugi strani, zlasti narava mednarodnih konfliktov, njihovi vzroki, vrste konfliktov in možnosti razreševanja na miren način. Posebej je izpostavljena problematika odnosov odvisnosti, zavezništva, regionalne mednarodne povezave.

V kontekstu obravnave obstoječih mednarodnih odnosov bo poseben poudarek dan problemu novega ravnotežja moči, ki nastaja na univerzalni ravni. Po eni strani gre

The core content of the course is an understanding of the structure of the international community, its development, and the fundamental characteristics of the modern international community. When trying to present this issue to students at a higher master's level, given the fact that they have not previously acquired basic knowledge of international relations and international law, it is necessary to define the most important concepts in the theory of international relations and international law in particular the concept of sovereignty which defines the international community and the relations within it.

In the context of the treatment of subjects, in addition to their general definition, special emphasis is placed on the state, which, due to its sovereignty and its position, has a specific and dominant role in international relations. In addition to the state, peoples are treated more extensively as subjects of international relations, with an emphasis on the issue of self-determination of peoples and the protection of national minorities. The role of transnational corporations, religious communities and NGOs in the international community is also highlighted. Apart from a few basic findings, the issue of international organizations is addressed in a specific subject.

The content of the course also includes an in-depth and postgraduate-level treatment of relations in the international community. Special attention is paid to the relations of cooperation on the one hand and the relations of conflict on the other, especially the nature of international conflicts, their causes, types of conflicts and the possibilities of resolving them peacefully. The issue of relations of dependence, alliances, regional international connections is especially emphasized.

In the context of the discussion of existing international relations, special emphasis will be given to the problem of the new balance of power emerging at the universal level. On the za nove elemente moči, poleg tradicionalne moči (vojaške, gospodarske, finančne), hkrati pa tudi za prvič v zgodovini dejansko tudi za ravnotežje moči na ravni različnih civilizacij. V preteklosti odkar sploh imamo ravnotežje moči na globalni ravni je to bilo dejansko ravnotežje moči med evropskimi oz. Zahodnimi velikimi silami. To se v zadnjih desetletjih spreminja, hkrati pa se dejansko zastavlja tudi vprašanje o bodočem mednarodnem redu in njegovih temeljih, ki ga bodo opredeljevali (npr. multipolarno ravnotežje moči ali hegemonija ene morda dveh dominantnih držav bodoče mednarodne skupnosti).

V delu predmeta, kjer se obravnava objektivne dejavnike, ki vplivajo na položaj držav v mednarodnih odnosih je izpostavljen geografski faktor, faktor neenakomernega razvoja, demografski faktor in tehnološki faktor, saj tehnološka razvitost postaja v modernem svetu vse bolj pomembna za položaj države v mednarodni skupnosti. Pomemben del predmeta je obravnava zunanje politike, njenega oblikovanja in uveljavljanja državni interesov v mednarodni skupnosti. Opredeljeni so, in njihova vloga v zunanji politiki, »nacionalni interes«, »kompromis«, sredstva zunanje politike, pri čemer so v ospredju pogajanja. V okviru predmeta, zlasti na vajah, so eksplicitno obravnavani teoretski pristopi k proučevanju mednarodnih odnosov in zunanje politike.

V predmet bo vključena predstavitev nekaterih del, ki se ukvarjajo z mednarodnimi odnosi v kontekstu nastajanja novega svetovnega reda. Posebej bo bolj kot doslej izpostavljena problematika odnosov med velikimi silami, predvsem bodoča vloga Kitajske. V tem one hand, it is about new elements of power, in addition to traditional power (military, economic, financial), but at the same time, for the first time in history, it is actually about the balance of power at the level of different civilizations. In the past, since we have had a balance of power at the global level, it has actually been a balance of power between the European or By the Western Great Powers. This has been changing in recent decades, but at the same time, the question of the future international order and its foundations that will define it (e.g. a multipolar balance of power or the hegemony of one or two dominant countries of the future international community) is actually being asked.

The part of the course that deals with objective factors influencing the position of countries in international relations highlights the geographical factor, the factor of uneven development, demographic factor and technological factor, as technological development in the modern world is becoming increasingly important for the country's position in the international community. An important part of the course is the discussion of foreign policy, its formulation and the assertion of state interests in the international community. There are defined, and their role in foreign policy, the "national interest," the "compromise," the means of foreign policy, with negotiations at the forefront.

The course, especially in tutorials, explicitly discusses theoretical approaches to the study of international relations and foreign policy.

The course will include a presentation of some works dealing with international relations in the context of the emergence of a new world order. In particular, the issue of great power relations kontekstu bo obravnavano vprašanje vodenja sveta v bodočem nastajočem novem ravnotežju moči. Razširjeno bo tudi obravnavanje problema ravnotežja moči v bodočem mednarodnem redu, hkrati pa tudi historične, sociološke in kulturne korenine pri glavnih akterjih nastajajočega svetovnega reda.

will be highlighted more than ever before, in particular the future role of China. In this context, the question of the governance of the world in the future emerging new balance of power will be addressed. The problem of the balance of power in the future international order will also be addressed, along with the historical, sociological and cultural roots of the main actors in the emerging world order.
